Please note that the International Society for Clinical Densitometry (ISCD) Courses, the Industry-Supported Symposia (ISS), and the Working Groups are not part of the ASBMR Official Scientific Program. These meetings are held in conjunction with the ASBMR Annual Meeting. The Sponsor/Organizer of each meeting is responsible for the organization and scientific content of the educational activity. For the ISS, ACCME-accreditation is required and the programs must be in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the ACCME as well as with FDA guidelines. However, ASBMR expects that all authors and presenters affiliated with the ASBMR 2010 Annual Meeting and the 2010 Ancillary Program will provide informative and fully accurate content that reflects the highest level of scientific rigor and integrity. Please note the following definitions: "Supporter" refers to the supporting company and "Sponsor" refers to the managing or organizing party and/or the CME provider.
